Now re-mastered, the Track will be digitally released on January 24, 2012.

The Song is released now as a "Single" to give people all over the World a message that is very much needed especially in today's time. With so much hardship going on everywhere, and so many struggles many people are going through, it is easy to forget that in fact "It's A Wonderful World."

This is a New Year, a new Start, and a new Chance for everyone. It is always important to stay positive, full of love, focused, and determined to reach our goals. In order to not let life get us down, we must count our blessings, and have gratitude for "what we do have." It will make our every day journey of achieving our goals and life's dreams much easier and smoother, because in fact it could always be worse than it is, therefore we must remember after all "It's A Wonderful World."

A critique once described Jean's performance as follows: Jean Shy has the conciseness of a Tina Turner, the vivid Northern-Soul feeling of a Van Morrison, the expressiveness of an Etta James, and she convinces above all with one thing "honesty."
